

CECE.

Can someone else go first?
I don't think I should go first.

What does that even mean?
"A good death."
Who cares about a good death?
Good death, bad death,
It's all death.
Right?

I mean—

I don't want a long process—
Like keeping me alive for—
Like my mother.....
That was slow—
And she wasn't even there, at the end.
You know?
I still want to be there. Here.

And Jonah was—

Jonah didn't get to think about it
He didn't get to look at death for a long time, it just—

And I keep thinking about the bees.
How they would have these spontaneous die-offs, dozens of them at a time.

Die with your hive.
Maybe that's good?
I dunno.

Like at the end
It would be nice not to—
Feel—

- -

Alone?

Here's what I want to say—
So the bees—
The bees would die and there would be all this honey
Left behind.
Not so much, now.

But there used to be gallons of it.

And that's
A Good Death.

Leaving behind honey

Like a gift
For everyone.
